“Marwa El Kik became the Manager of the National Volunteer Service Program Manager in September 2013. She is in charge of overseeing the implementation of the Program throughout Lebanon, which involves working closely with the Ministry of Social Affairs as well as other government and non-government partners, namely NGOs, schools and universities. She holds a Bachelor Degree in Hospitality Management and Tourism from Saint Joseph University (USJ).”