OUR GOAL

Creating a social platform for youth to empower themselves to raise awareness on climate policies and bring climate concerns to the social and political debate.
WHO’S THIS FOR?

- youth and future generations
- migrants and indigenous communities
- working class
HOW ARE WE GOING TO DO IT?
As other social platforms, it will work as a speaker for more awareness towards the climate question:

Teaming up with scientists to provide data on how to conciliate environment protection while creating new green jobs

Providing resources and a platform for any young person that wants to learn more, and take action! –And teach them what role can they play in politics in order to change things locally.

Educating every-day people about climate repercussions in their local communities, and how this is a problem that affects everyone.
